Privacy Policy

MinutePAL.com is a software of Millenium Media, Inc. and hereafter will be referred to as MinutePAL. MinutePAL is committed to protecting your privacy. You can visit most pages on our site without providing any information about yourself. However, we sometimes require information in order to provide services that you request, and so the following privacy statement explains collection, dissemination and use of your personal data in those situations. This information may be expanded or updated as we change or develop our site. For this reason, we recommend that you review this policy from time-to-time to see if anything has changed. Your continued use of our site signifies your acceptance of our privacy policy.

MinutePAL collects information on our users by your voluntary submissions and through cookie technology.

The information MinutePAL collects is used in a variety of ways: for internal review; to improve the content of the site, thus making your user experience more valuable; to notify you about updates; to provide you information you have requested; and to let you know about our products and services.

By using our Web site, you consent to the collection and use of the information described in this Privacy Policy by MinutePAL.

Personally Identifiable Information:

When you purchase our software, we collect personal information from you such as but not limited to your name, address, phone number and the e-mail address. E-mail addresses are not sold or traded and are used for order confirmation. Your credit card information is only used for completing the purchase transaction and is sent directly from our web page to our processing company Authorize.net. At no time does MinutePal, Millenium Media, Inc. or any affiliates store or access to your credit card information. All information is transmitted using professional level SSL certificate with a minimum 128-bit encryption. Your profile information is collected and stored using the same encryption technology to help prevent any third party from intercepting the information. We use the information provided by our customers to analyze product trends. This analysis helps us improve the quality of our Web site and product mix.

E-mail:

When requesting information or a trial of our software, you may be asked to provide your e-mail address. By providing your e-mail address, you are agreeing that MinutePAL can send you important information about our products, including announcements of new releases, and future payment options.

Cookies:

Cookies are small text files a Web site uses to recognize repeat users, facilitate the user's ongoing access to the site and facilitate the use of the site. "Cookies" also allow a site to track usage behavior and compile site usage information that will allow for the improvement of content. This information is anonymous and we use this information only internally- we never give away information about our users.

Disclosure:

Our policy is not to disclose personally identifiable information to unrelated third parties unless required to do so by law or legal process. MinutePAL at its sole discretion, reserves the right to make exceptions to this policy in extraordinary circumstances (such as a bomb or suicide threat, or instances of suspected illegal activity) on a case-by-case basis. Although MinutePAL will take reasonable measures not to disclose information about you or the contents of your communications, we may be compelled to do so in the good faith belief that such action is reasonably necessary (a) to comply with the law; (b) to comply with legal process; (c) to enforce these terms and conditions; (d) to respond to claims that any content violates the rights of third parties; (e) to facilitate the terms of an acquisition of MinutePAL by, or merger with, another company or (f) to protect the interests of MinutePAL or others.

Updates to this Policy:

As our Web site evolves over time or our data handling policies change, we will update this privacy policy. This privacy policy will be governed by the laws of the United States and the State of Pennsylvania.
